

Values

At Fulbrook, we already have outstanding results for academic subjects but feel that becoming a successful member of society is more than just gaining good exam results. We have adopted 12 main values that we feel encapsulate the spirit of our school and these are:

Term	Year 1	Year 2
Autumn 1	Respect	Responsibility
Autumn 2	Happiness	Caring
Spring 1	Honesty	Trust
Spring 2	Empathy	Acceptance
Summer 1	Perseverance	Courage
Summer 2	Co-operation	Patience

We encourage the children to keep these values at the forefront of their mind and therefore make decisions and choices based on these standards of behaviour.

Each half term we shall have a poster competition for the new value and the winning entry shall be placed around the community. We shall also have two children and an adult that will be our Values Stars for each half term. These will be people who have especially shown this value over the previous weeks and deserve recognition for their actions.

Having active members of society is important for all communities and with this new initiative we hope that Fulbrook can have an even more positive effect on its surrounding area.

Our value for this half term is co-operation. We are holding assemblies on this value, including it in lessons and encouraging the children and adults to show this through their day to day actions. We feel that this is an important value, especially when we are coming to the end of a school year and tiredness is setting in. We all have good ideas but when we work together the result is often greater than the sum of its parts. Co-operating with a wide range of people is an important skill in the real world and the more practise we have of it the better we become.

We have defined co-operation as:

- helping one another.
- working together with patience.
- collective effort to reach a goal.

Below are some quotes that we have displayed around the school emphasising and explaining the type of behaviour and views we hope the children will gain throughout the half term.

"In the end the aggressors always destroy themselves, making way for others who know how to cooperate and get along. Life is much less a competitive struggle for survival than a triumph of cooperation and creativity."

Fritjof Capra

"Competition has been shown to be useful up to a certain point and no further, but cooperation, which is the thing we must strive for today, begins where competition leaves off."

Franklin D. Roosevelt

"Society is joint action and cooperation in which each participant sees the other partner's success as a means for the attainment of his own."

Ludwig von Mises

"Cooperation is the thorough conviction that nobody can get there unless everybody gets there."

Virginia Burden Tower

"The only thing that will redeem mankind is cooperation."

Bertrand Russell

"No employer today is independent of those about him. He cannot succeed alone, no matter how great his ability or capital. Business today is more than ever a question of cooperation."

Orison Swett Marden

"What works in the real world is cooperation."

William J. Clinton

"Great discoveries and improvements invariably involve the cooperation of many minds. I may be given credit for having blazed the trail, but when I look at the subsequent developments I feel the credit is due to others rather than to myself."

Alexander Graham Bell

"The most powerful force ever known on this planet is human cooperation - a force for construction of good and the destruction of what is bad."

Jonathan Haidt

"Government and co-operation are in all things the laws of life."

John Ruskin

"If co-operation, is thus the lifeblood of science and technology, it is similarly vital to society as a whole."

Arthur Holly Compton

"If you want to make peace with your enemy, you have to work with your enemy. Then he becomes your partner."

Nelson Mandela

"If everyone helps to hold up the sky, then one person does not become tired."

Askhari Johnson Hodari,

"Teamwork makes the dream work"

Bang Gae

"Obedience may have its uses, but it is no substitute for willing, uncoerced co-operation."

Eleanor Roosevelt

"We may have all come on different ships, but we're all in the same boat now."

Martin Luther King Jr.

"Many hands make light work."

John Heywood

"A man may do an immense deal of good, if he does not care who gets the credit for it."

Father Strickland

"Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed people can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has."

Margaret Meade
